

Résumé of Nicolas Höning

SOFTWARE DEVELOPER ~ PHD RESEARCHER

I am drawn to dynamic systems which are complex to manage. So far, I have worked with web applications, energy markets and brains.

KEY SKILLS LISTING

- Analytic, result-oriented thinking and verbalizing
- Agile team development
- Web application programming (Python, Bash, JavaScript, Continuous Integration)
- Simulations of stochastic systems, design of independent behaviour of agents in multiagent systems

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Company: Senfal B.V.
Software Engineer

Amsterdam, NL
2017 - now

Senfal manages energy procurement by developing smart demand response services. <http://www.senfal.com> Most notable achievement:

- I automated the pumping decisions for several large water pumps.

Company: Softwear B.V.
Lead developer

Amsterdam, NL
2014 - 2017

Softwear automates data management for fashion wholesalers and modern point-of-sales solutions for retailers. <http://www.softwear.nl> Most notable achievement:

- I led development on Python backend and transitioning it to Docker (in production).

Company: Centrum Wiskunde en Informatica
Research Assistant

Amsterdam, NL
2009 - 2016

The CWI does fundamental research in computer science. <http://www.cwi.nl> My PhD dissertation which I wrote in the Intelligent Systems group is titled: "Peak reduction in decentralised electricity systems - Markets and prices for flexible planning."

Company: Whitematter Labs
Senior Web Developer

Osnabrück, DE
2009 - 2010

A spinoff-company of the University Of Osnabrück. They provide a web service that delivers visual attention prediction on websites. Website: <http://www.eyequant.com>

Most notable achievement:

- I developed a Pyramid-based Web-Application, incl. cross-browser CSS and Javascript.

Company: RoeperWeise Systems
Software Developer

Gehrden, DE
2000 - 2004

A software development company near Hannover, Germany. <http://www.roeperweise.de>

Most notable achievement:

- I designed and prototyped a software generator for business applications.
